HOUSE TAX REPORTS.

In paying your income tax, it should be borne in mind that the amount may be paid in installments. It does not matter what the amount may be, for the law applies to great and small. If you owe the government your share of tax you have the privilege of paying one cent at a time just the same as the man who has to pay $1000 or $5000. The government is probably the better way for residents of small towns for it serves to preserve the amount of money in local circulation instead of making a heavy drain not only upon your funds but upon the general amount available for circulation in a small community. The payer, however, must make a note of the date on which the second, third and fourth payments are due for he will not receive any notice of the maturity and default on the payment places him in a class where the government will exact a penalty. Tonopah people are not accustomed to paying small sums and many would prefer to be through with the job and get the obligation off their chest but it should be borne in mind that the installment plan was adopted by the government for the protection of the banks and to safeguard against a heavy drain upon the resources of any particular section. This part payment plan is not universally known for in all the ordinances issued by the government advising taxpayers there is no reference to this grace extended and many who would strain their finances by paying in full would be vastly relieved to learn that the payments are not made oppressive. The time limit is fast approaching. Owing to the presence of a deputy collector in Tonopah there is a certain expediency of time for two days representing the difference between the time required for a remittance to reach San Francisco and the delivery of the same to the agent in Tonopah.

SCRAPPING STATE LEGISLATURES.

Under the present centralized system of government by which the several states are deprived of the right of self government it would seem a wise policy for every state to proceed under federal statutes and abandon the pretense of enacting laws for the guidance of the people of the commonwealth. As Elihu Root, the greatest authority on international law and constitutional questions asserts, adoption of the eighteenth amendment wipes out state autonomy. In the management of railroads, rate fixing and traffic regulations pertaining solely to interstate commerce the state is helpless for the reason that no plan can be made that will conflict with interstate rates. Nevada has had a illustration of the viciousness of this practice through refusal of the railroad administration to grant a rate on ore destined for the Thompson smelter in comparison with the long haul to Salt Lake. The same may be said of the use of gasoline carriers which are regulated from Washington without regard to the needs of people where there was no referendum and no popular endorsement of prohibition. Washington and the laws for the country, which has become one big union regardless of constitutional rights. This centralization of power is the great evil that not to be combated in the presidential campaign and one that will end the democratic party from stem to stern. Suffrage has been based on the southern states against the will of the thousands of the voters who do not share the liberal ideas of the southern states when the educational standards are higher and better. But tests are not prejudiced by adding millions of such voters whose "beliefs and environment unfit them for the ballot." Suffrage will shift the party in the south while prohibition will cause thousands of votes to be polled against the dominant party in the north and west which feel acutely the loss of the personal privileges through suppression of beverages to which the people have been accustomed all their lives.

PROFITEERING PROSPERS.

Attorney General Palmer "points with pride" to the fact that his department has instituted suits against 1046 persons and firms alleged to be guilty of profiteering. In this connection it should be remembered that Mr. Palmer is a candidate for the democratic nomination, Wilson permitting. It is one thing to file a suit and another to finish it. The conduct of the profiteers is the best answer to the defense of the administration for there is no let up to the climbing scale and the chief culprits are exhorting at the empty threats emanating from Washington. Several indictments have been returned against milk peddlers and other small fish but we have yet to hear of any results from suppression of the potato kings, the packing house trust, the sugar syndicates, the lumber combine, cold storage distributors, the California fruit syndicate, the fish canners and others whose infamous operations go to make the consumer pay the best part of his earnings to these freebooters of commerce. Since the outbreak of the war corporate greed has been running amok in this country. To satisfy its cravings a nation's life and dangers have been capitalized and a people in travail exploited. One western sugar company has piled up in New York a surplus of undivided profits more than sixty-five million dollars while the people are forced to pay three prices for the sugar they consume. This is the kind of protection the democrats are giving the country instead of the protection of the republican party, which always assured the worker of employment and living at prices that left a margin for luxuries.

What the president really wants is a cabinet with reservations—and then he wants it to stay on the reservation.

These democrats at Washington couldn't be resigning so freely if they didn't realize that it is about over anyhow.

The senators ought not hold up Colby's appointment unless they can find somebody else willing to take the place.

In his farewell statement Secretary Lane has again demonstrated the proof of the old adage that it's a long lane that has no turning.

Doubtless Mr. Colby was the only unattached man with a detached mind that the president could find.

Democrats are accusing republicans of trying to "talk the treaty to death." It is our opinion that President Wilson wrote it to death.

FIVE THOUSAND OUNCES SILVER

What has the appearance of being a bonanza ore shoot is being opened on the property of the Sunshine Mines company, located at the camp of Sunshine, seventeen miles south of Winnemucca, according to the Humboldt Star. As a new opening on the surface ore that assays from 50 to 5,000 ounces in silver and from 12 to 18 per cent copper is being extracted.

The find was made several days ago and as depth is attained there is no diminution in size or the richness of the ore body. It is undoubtedly the richest ore yet found in quantity in the camp and from present indications is a permanent ore shoot.

The rich ore was discovered while prospecting work was being done along the outcrop of one of the veins that traverse the property and is about five hundred feet from the workings where ore extraction has been going on for some time.

Only a short time ago a carload shipment was sent out from this point, the ore assaying from 25 to 100 ounces in silver, 12 in gold and 10 per cent lead to the ton.

The Nevada Sunshine company is composed mostly of Chicago people, headed by O. W. Jones, president of the Silver State Mines company, owning the principal properties at Rochester, Pershing county.

MINOR LEAGUES SEE PROSPERITY

NEW YORK, March 13.—In forecasting a successful season for the minor league baseball clubs throughout the United States and Canada, Secretary John H. Farrell of the National association said a few days ago, "I believe the general prospect for 1920 in the various sections of this country and Canada were never better. The people are turning to amusements and outdoor sports for recreation in greater numbers than ever before. Last year the minor league clubs enjoyed their most prosperous season in five years past. This era of prosperity extended to all leagues in every section of the country and to the far off Western Canada league in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. The minor leagues have flourished under the National association government as never before in the history of baseball."

BIGGEST AIRSHIP FOR THE NAVY

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—The world's largest dirigible will be built at the Philadelphia navy yard. In it a company of navy men will attempt flight across the Pacific. Fifty-two draftsmen gave their services to the work of designing the great airship. Work will soon be begun on the plans. It will be developed along lines similar to the R-34 which made the successful trans-Atlantic flight. The dirigible will weigh about 33 tons, and will have a carrying capacity of 30 tons.
